Sold Out Quiet Storm Brunch at East End Brewing to Celebrate Book Launch

(Pittsburgh, PA): Quiet Storm Vegetarian + Vegan Café is partnering with East End Brewing on October 1, 2023. Guests will savor menu favorites and sip Quiet Storm Brew along with East End Brewing draughts.

Quiet Storm will release a story/cookbook in late November 2023 to commemorate 10 years since closing the adored storefront in Garfield. The book will feature narratives by owner/chef Jilly MacDowell, artwork, photography, show flyers, menus and most importantly, recipes. "In launching this long overdue project, I'm reminded that Quiet Storm was truly loved," says owner/chef MacDowell.

"Sure, the Storm was a vegetarian & vegan diner," she continues, "but it was also a community gathering place, a daily coffee stop, an art & performance venue, a wedding catering company, a haven for some of the city's most colorful neighborhood characters and a literal window on the Pittsburgh come-up story."

East End Brewing's Scott Smith remembers, "The vibe was cozy, the people were great, the tunes were fun, and of course the food was just perfect. Every time I cleared a major (or minor) milestone, I'd reward myself with a visit - often dining alone, but later with my whole family. Quiet Storm was a special place to take refuge from the day to day stresses of starting up a brewery."

Recipes in the book will include menu staples like Scrambled Tofu, Onion Gravy, Black Beans & Aioli, along with brunch favorites, dressings, sauces & soups.
